

Brocamp Attendee Guidelines

At Brototype, the goal is not just to teach tech, but to help transform lives. This journey demands commitment, discipline, and a shared sense of responsibility. To ensure that everyone moves forward together, it is important for every attendee to follow a clear and consistent set of guidelines.

This document outlines everything attendees need to know about being part of Brocamp, from the basic code of conduct and workspace etiquette to essential terms, conditions, and policies that promote fairness and accountability. Adhering to these guidelines will protect each attendee's progress, foster a healthy learning environment, and ensure consistent progress toward success.

For any queries or assistance, please email admissions@brototype.com

1. General

- 1.1. All offline attendees are expected to adhere to the mandatory working hours, which are from 9:00 AM to 5:30 PM, Monday to Friday. Maintaining attendance during these hours is important to ensure smooth operations, productivity, and discipline. Attendees are required to punch in upon arrival and punch out when leaving using the tool provided by the administration. This helps ensure accurate attendance tracking and promotes punctuality. Please note that failure to punch in may result in being marked absent for the day.
- 1.2. Punctuality is an integral aspect of maintaining professional decorum. All attendees are expected to arrive at the workspace on time, no later than 9:00 AM. In the event of a delay due to significant or unavoidable reasons, attendees are required to complete the official Late Arrival Notification Form before 9:00 AM and subsequently report to the workspace by 10:00 AM. Failure to fulfill this protocol will result in restricted access to the workspace for the day, and the absence will be recorded as full-day leave.
- 1.3. Attendees are encouraged to demonstrate their commitment by staying at the workspace until the scheduled working hours conclude. If an attendee anticipates the need to leave early due to compelling reasons, early departure is permissible only after 4:30 PM. In such cases, attendees must complete the Early Departure Form and notify their assigned batch counselor in advance. This process facilitates appropriate planning and ensures minimal disruption to operational workflows. Failure to adhere to this procedure will result in the day's absence being classified as full-day leave.

- 1.4. Attendees must avoid repeated late arrivals or early leave patterns to promote consistency, attendance stability, and optimal productivity. Any instance of arriving late or leaving early more than once per week, regardless of the reason, will lead to restricted entry and be treated as a full-day leave for that day.
- 1.5. To sustain uninterrupted workflow and concentration, attendees are required to avoid taking breaks during the critical period between 9:00 AM and 11:00 AM. If an attendee requires a break exceeding one hour at any time during the day, prior notification to the batch counselor is mandatory, and approval must be obtained.
- 1.6. Half-day leave requests must be submitted on time. Attendees intending to take a half-day leave must complete and submit the official Half-Day Leave Form before 9:00 AM on the day in question. Upon approval, the attendee must report to the workspace no later than 1:30 PM. Failure to fulfill this directive will result in the denial of workspace access for the entire day, with the absence recorded as full-day leave.
- 1.7. All remote attendees are required to maintain a professional and conducive environment for their participation in the program. This includes having access to a fully functional laptop based on the decided domain, a high-speed internet connection with a minimum bandwidth of 100 Mbps, and a workspace that is free from distractions. Ensuring these prerequisites is critical to seamless participation and productive engagement in all program activities.
- 1.8. Remote attendees and attendees in the foundation period must dedicate a minimum of eight (8) hours per day to the program. This includes two distinct time slots, totaling four (4) hours each, one of which at least one slot must fall within standard office hours, i.e., 9:00 AM to 5:30 PM (IST). These dedicated slots are crucial for facilitating meetings, exams, communication sessions, and collaborative activities. Failure to adhere to these time commitments, including attendance at mandatory communication sessions and scheduled meetings, will result in the day being recorded as absent
- 1.9. Attendees are required to install and utilize a monitoring tool for tracking daily attendance and activity. The monitoring tool serves as a comprehensive mechanism to log attendees' login and logout times, ensuring strict adherence to attendance requirements and participation benchmarks. Attendees must ensure that its installation is completed promptly when instructed. Compliance with monitoring protocols is non-negotiable.
